Hypnotherapy

“It overthrows the theories of judges and philosophers and shakes the faith of material scientists in their preconceived opinions. It replaces the physician and the surgeon, cures the afflicted and the deformed who they pronounced beyond the hope of recovery. It breaks the chains of demoralising and destructive habits. It comforts the sorrowing and brings peace of mind to those distracted by the perplexities of life. It abolishes periods of time and extents of distance. It makes the lame walk, strengthens the weak and causes the maniac to become as docile as a baby. It cheats the hand of death and snatches almost from the grave the grim destroyer’s victims. It loosens the tongue of the stammer, overcomes the self-consciousness of the backward and tempers the impetuosity of the rash enthusiast.

To mankind it is a blessing, leading their innermost thoughts to higher and nobler things, developing their powers to plan and to execute and giving them social, financial and intellectual eminence among his fellow men. All this and more is HYPNOTISM.”
